Every year, Landmarks Illinois selects the ten most endangered historic places in Illinois, focusing attention on sites threatened due to neglect, deterioration, lack of maintenance, insufficient funds, inappropriate development, or insensitive public policy. Each of the sites are architecturally, historically, or archaeologically significant; each enjoys community or statewide support for its protection; and there are options for each to be preserved.

Properties located in the following counties will be represented on the Ten Most Endangered list:

Champaign County
Cook County
DuPage County
Fulton County
Lake County
Logan County
Randolph County
Sangamon County
