

LANDMARKS ILLINOIS

2006 Legendary Landmark Lois Weisberg

Lois Weisberg, Commissioner of Cultural Affairs for the City of Chicago, is responsible for an astonishing array of cultural innovations enjoyed by Chicagoan and visitors alike. From her role in founding Friends of the Parks, Blues Fest and Taste of Chicago to Cows on Parade, Neighborhood Tours and Millennium Park, Lois continues to leave her mark on the city she loves. She has saved architectural treasures and brought the arts to Historic Water Tower and WaterWorks as well as the DCA Theater and Storefront Theater on East Randolph Street. Lois has been honored for her creativity and commitment to public service by groups ranging from the Chicago Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and the Chicago Historical Society to Northwestern University as the 2004 recipient of its Alumni Service to Society Award.