

Couple live in California after European honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. John Wayne Seilo

Following her marriage and a three-week European honeymoon, Diane DiLustro of Palatine is making her new home in Huntington Beach, Calif., where she had been attending school.

She wed John Wayne Seilo of Huntington Beach July 7 in a double ring ceremony at Santa Teresita Catholic Church, Palatine.

Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat DiLustro of 712 Stuart Lane, Palatine, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Seilo of Salinas, Calif.

The bride and groom designed their own gold wedding bands which contain meaningful symbols and characters representing their mutual love.

DIANE WORE a gown designed in white organza with a high neckline and a V-shaped floral lace bodice edged in eyelet lace and pink ribbon. The A-line skirt was edged with two wide pink pleated ruffles trimmed with the same eyelet lace and pink ribbon that adorned the bodice and sleeves. The short illusion veil was held in place with a floral lace headband made to match the gown.

White and pink rosebuds sprinkled with baby's breath made up the nosegay carried by the bride.

The bride's sister, Patricia DiLustro of New York City, was the maid of honor.

Two friends, Carol Hutchison of Vancouver, Wash., and Nancy Tanaschuk of Palatine, were bridesmaids.

To carry out the pink and white color scheme, the attendants wore floor-length embroidered pink organza gowns with shirred bodices, high necklines and ruffled cap sleeves.

THE ENSEMBLES were complemented with pink picture hats, and each attendant carried pink rosebuds, pink carnations, daisies and baby's breath.

The best man was Larry Jacques of Flushing, Mich. Ushers were John DiLustro, the bride's twin brother from Belmont, Calif., and Andrew P. Spirka of Livonia, Mich.

A luncheon reception for the 110 guests at Lancer's Restaurant in Schaumburg immediately followed the 11 o'clock ceremony. The bride and groom toasted their marriage with a special red wine made over 50 years ago by the groom's late grandfather.

Diane received a degree in social science from Golden West College in Huntington Beach. Her husband has his B.S. from the University of Michigan and his master's from California State University in Long Beach. He is currently employed with McDonnell Douglas Corp. in Huntington Beach.

ELK GROVE HOMEMAKERS

Elk Grove Unit of Cook County Home-maker's Extension Association will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. Printz, 2824 Briarwood Drive East, Arlington Heights.

Refreshments will be served at noon by Mrs. Printz and Mrs. C. West. Later a film strip will be shown.

WHEELING-BUFFALO GROVE NEWCOMER CLUB

New residents of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove are invited to a meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. of the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove Newcomers Club. Landscape architect Edith C. Antognoli will present an informative program entitled "Your Garden in the suburbs."

Mrs. Antagnoli has a bachelor's degree in architecture from the University of Illinois and is a member of the American Society of Landscape Architects, the Glenview Appearance Commission, West Fork Green Committee and Landscape Design Critics Council.

Those planning to attend may bring along a particular problem or a detailed sketch for personal counseling.

The newcomers meet at Addolorata Villa, Wheeling.

Albert Gehrkes are married 65 years today

Today marks the 65th anniversary for a Wheeling couple, Albert and Charlotte Gehrke of 200 Debra Lane. To celebrate, they and their immediate family will have dinner at Ignatz and Mary's Grove Inn, Northbrook.

Albert, now 86, and his wife, 84, have lived in Wheeling for the past seven years. They are from Chicago, were married there 65 years ago today, and lived in the city until Albert retired at 65 years of age. He was a stationary engineer for a Chicago firm.

Upon retirement the couple moved to northern Wisconsin but moved back to the area seven years ago.

They have three children, 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. There are two daughters: Dorothy, who is Mrs. Conrad Kruse of Palatine, and Charlotte, now Mrs. Virgil Corder of Des Moines, who is also here for the anniversary party. The Gehrkes have a son, Russell, of Lombard.

School timed to body clock?

Medical science points to the importance of body time — each person's unique biological rhythm. The hormones that regulate many of the mental and organic functions undergo internal tidal changes, accompanied by corresponding variations in energy distribution, in drives, in attention span, in periods of alertness and fatigue.

What does body time mean for youngsters in a classroom? Well, it may mean that some should be going to school at a time that is different from regular school hours.

Planners participating in a conference on new directions for high schools even suggested that schools provide optional schedules. Students could select the one that suits their body rhythms best.

One school already is catering. In 1970, Las Vegas opened Urban High School. It operates from 4:30 p.m. on for this reason: 500 students prefer to study late in the day.

The school is known locally as "Five O'Clock High." (UPI)

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Sprague

They met at Stout State

Kathleen M. Miller of Arlington Heights wed Patrick J. Sprague of Milwaukee, Wis., in a double ring ceremony June 23 at St. Raymond's Church, Mount Prospect.

The couple first met four years ago while both were students at Stout State University in Menomonie, Wis.

The bride is the daughter of Ralph Miller of 448 S. Kennicott. A '67 graduate of Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Kathleen earned a B.S. in home economics and is currently a foods teacher at Maine North High School, Des Plaines.

Patrick, who is the son of Mrs. Betty Sprague of Milwaukee, graduated from Stout in 1970 with a degree in industrial technology. He is employed as an industrial engineer for Joanna Western Mills in Chicago.

A FRIEND OF the bride's, Janice Carpenter of Schaumburg, was maid of honor. Kathleen's sister, Maryanne Miller of Des Plaines, and Patrick's sister, Mary Jo Colman of Milwaukee, were bridesmaids.

Darryl Haffner, a friend of the groom's from Milwaukee, was the best man.

Ushers included Eddie Dehnert and Steve Serak, both of Milwaukee; the bride's brother, Tom Miller of Arlington Heights; and the groom's brother, Tom Sprague, Milwaukee.

A reception for 165 guests was held at Arlington Park Towers Hotel. The couple have moved into an apartment in Chicago after honeymooning for 10 days in Acapulco, Mexico.
